 Volume 67

Dear Diary,

You won't believe it! I have been meaning to fill in the days from the time school opened with all kinds of names, dates, and events, but it's kind of hard to write in a diary every night when you have so much homework to do!

School is over for another year and many things will always be the same.

Throughout my life I'll always remember this year at Newark High, and I hope Newark High always remembers me.

For 1300 students including me school lasted for one full year. Many students gained an extra credit, or made up one they missed by attending a summer session at N.H.S. My school day lasted from 8:00 till 12:00, but for some poor unfortunates in lab classes the day lasted from 7:30 to 12:30. We had a five minute. Break every hour and some economics. students in Mr. Johnston's classes sold much needed munchies and drinks to curb hunger pains and make school more enjoyable.

Some days never end! A person could go crazy going from class to studyhall, to homeroom, to class, to lunch, to more classes! A person could scream, but I'll leave the screaming to the teachers; me, I'd rather sleep through class. I can't really complain though. I had many good teachers this year, and I think I may have learned a few things. Most of my classes are forty-five minutes long, but the labs are an hour long. I even have a class for ten minutes, unfortunately it's lunch. Some of my friends get to work a half a day, but I have to put in a full six hours. See, I work so hard!

Guess what I did last night? I went to see "Seahouse of the August Moon" presented by the Newark High Drama Department. It was a funny play about the attempts of an army officer named Captain Fisk to "Americanize" the citizens of Iokiki, Okinawa. Not only was a very professional job done on the play, but it made for a very enjoyable evening. Sakini (John Holliday), Captain Fisk's (Scott Warrick) interpreter, had leading roles along with Col Purdy (Jim Owen) and Lotus Blossom (Becky Baumgartner). Going to see a play sure was a change from the usual weekend habits.

I got out of English class today to see "Spook River Anthology"

The play was open to all Advanced English classes for either the November or December shows in addition to the regular performance for the public. The Acting Ensemble, under the direction of Mr. Tom Humphrey, performed this collection of poems by Edgar Lee Masters. Combined with songs and special slide materials, the play presented an intriguing picture of life as seen through the eyes of characters in an Illinois graveyard.

You'll never guess what happened. During Thanksgiving vacation N.H.S. Band, Flag Corps, and Wildcatettes, went on a trip to Philadelphia to be, now get this, in Gimbel's Thanksgiving Day parade. After the parade, they went to their hotel, the Marriott Inn, and ate Thanksgiving dinner. Once through with their dinner, they visited a couple of historic monuments such as Independence Hall and the Liberty Bell. But that wasn't the end of their little trip by a long shot.

Soon after their historic visitation; they were on the road again but this time their trusty bus was taking them to the national capital, Washington, D.C. When they arrived on Thanksgiving evening, they all spent the night at the 4-H Convocational Center.

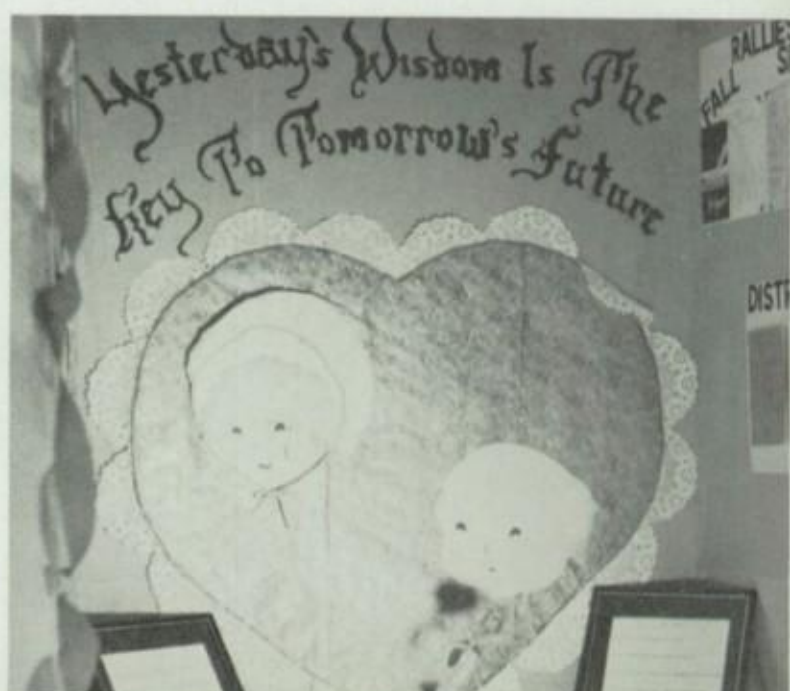

But before they knew it, it was morning and before that the band and company were up and touring Washington, D.C. where they visited more historic sights including the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, the capitol, the Smithsonian Institute and many other interesting places.

But as always, how time flies when you're having fun and that night they were all waving goodbye to Washington.

Bright and early at 6:30 Saturday morning, the entire group returned to Newark.

Wow! We're never shortchanged when it comes to activities. We have students competing on WBN3-TV's ~~In The~~ Know, musicians playing in the pep band, and drama members performing at Weatherwax Playhouse during the summer. The Future Homemakers of America are still going strong and now Newark High even has its own television production crew. Things are a little quiet at the library, but that's expected. Some favorite activities are trying to satisfy the munchies during class and nicotine fits outside of class. If there's something you like to do, do it at N.H.S.

You know, I never really realized it, but this school has many things to offer. There is so much extra space to play touch football or throw a frisbee during the lunch mode. If you want, you can just walk around campus. There always seems to be plenty of room until the next bell rings and 2,100 students start changing classes. Then it's like 5:00 rush hour. When you're bored, you can always find someone to talk with on the patio, or help prepare a set for for the next play, or even buy something at the Hub Shop.

Mark Paulson and Val Carter presided as king and queen over the Homecoming game during which Newark triumphed over Grove City. The juniors had the winning goal with the theme "Fantastic Voyage" they did a "fantastic" decorating job. After the game, we went to Frisco and elsewhere to celebrate.

 Homecoming Dance
 Theme "Fantastic Voyage"

Homecoming Dance was really rice with the aura of an ocean liner in the tropics. The flowing dresses and tantalizing scents of corsages and boutonnieres lent to the scene and caused a more festive mood. With the crowning ceremonies, dancing, and refreshments, the voyage was some trip.

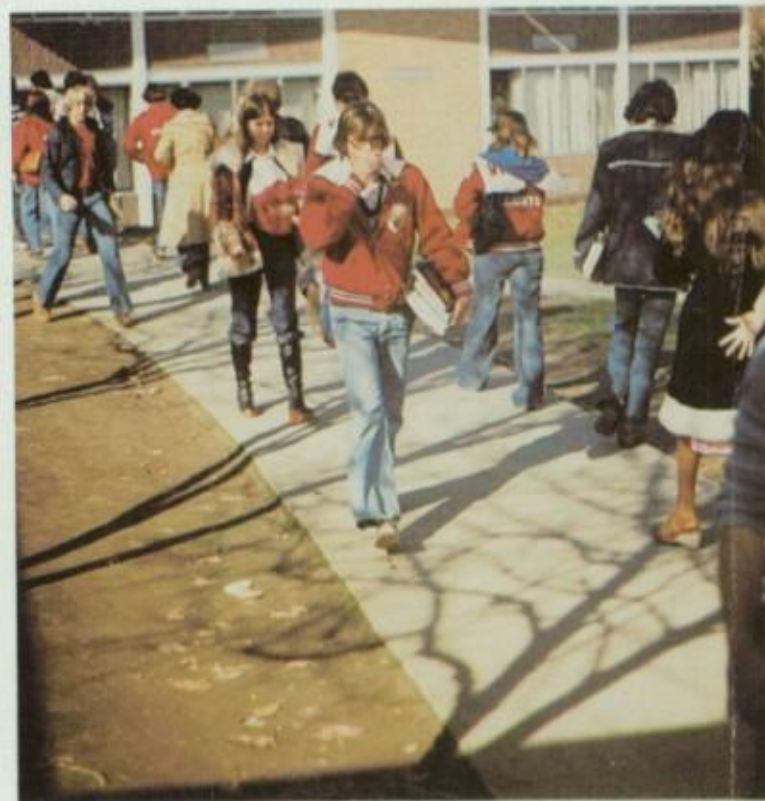

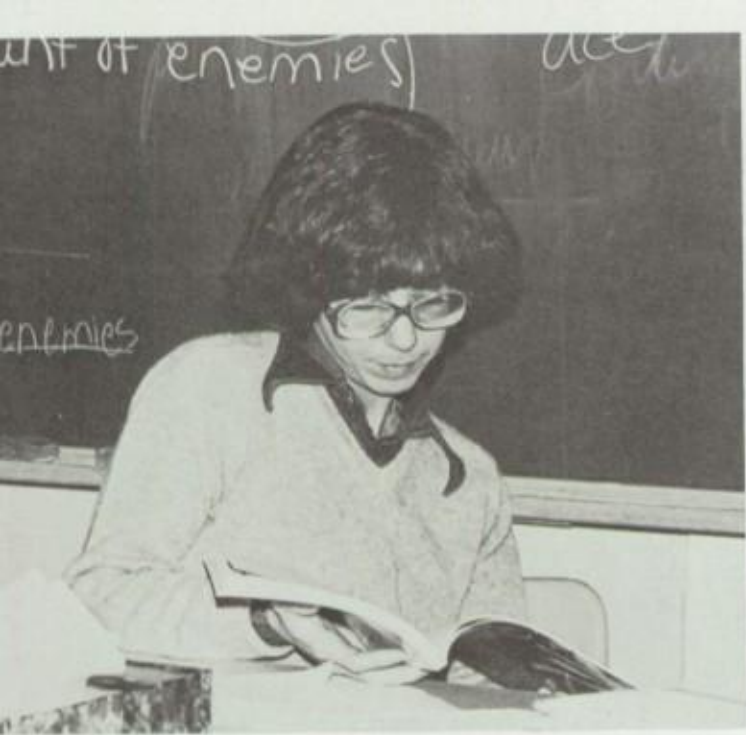

Newark High's assembly program got underway with a trampolene assembly by the world's champion trampoleneist. The assembly proved to be a bouncing success.

The Air Force sent a specialized trailer to the high school with the "History of Aviation" inside. Teachers took their classes to see the multiscreen projection system.

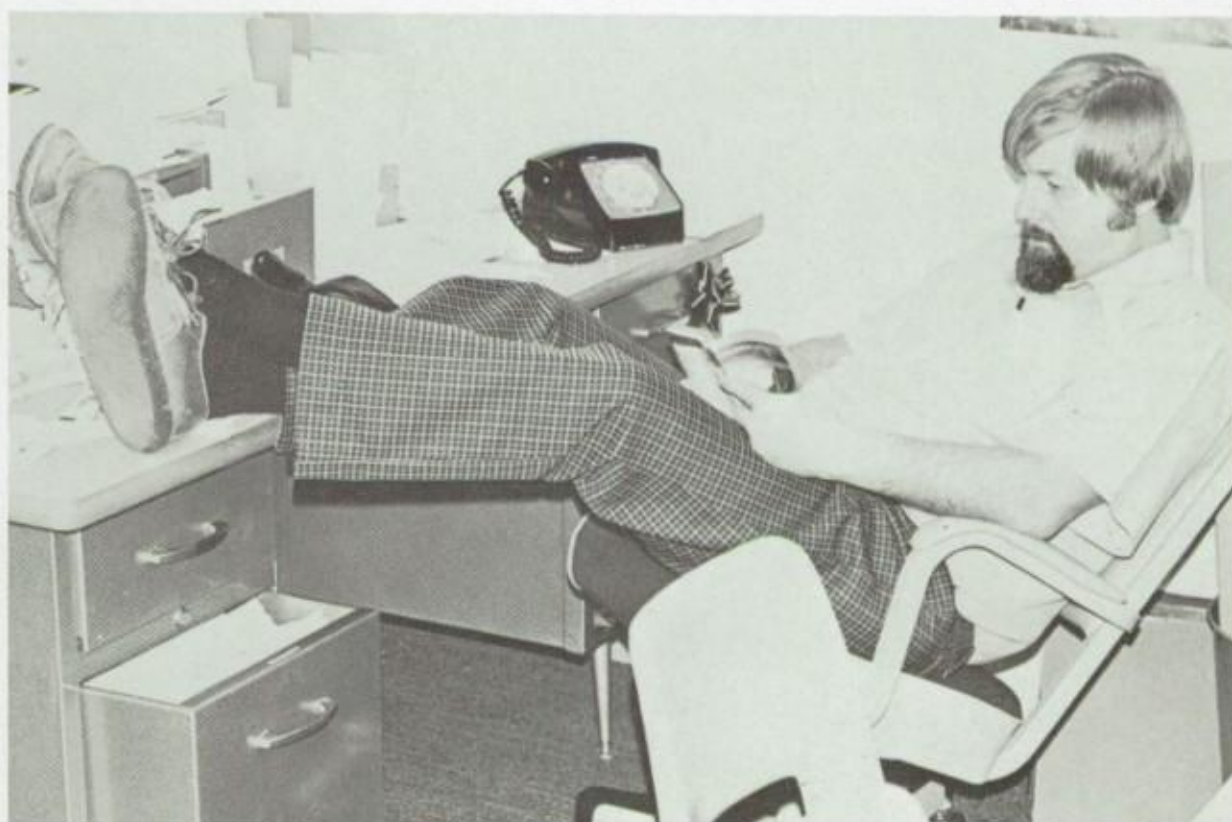

To get the holiday spirit going,

The annual Christmas Concert was held with the choral, band, orchestral, and drama departments providing the entertainment. The Beadle put in a surprise appearance as Santa Claus. Even with all this holiday spirit, we still didn't have a white Christmas.

Today, we had fifteen minutes of sustained silent reading (SSR). Many important people showed up, including Mayor Richard Baker, Le Houx Bugge, Charles Ely, Dr. Richard Frost, Margaret Joffe, James Kishler, Sandy Hayman, Jane McConnell, Robert Bruce, Mike Reid, Frank Stare, and Judge Virginia Weiss. I really enjoyed reading my book for fifteen, but I felt it wasn't enough time. Every Thursday is SSR day, and the week of Feb 27 - Mar. 4, there is SSR everyday.

Do you know what Newark High School's annual musical presented by the N.H.S. Music and Drama Department was this year? Well, if you don't know, it was Finian's Rainbow. The story centers on Finian McCloxergan (played by Mike Thomas), who stole a crock of gold from a leprechaun called Og (played by Todd Sullivan); then swiftly went to America. Once a crock of gold is stolen from a leprechaun he slowly turns mortal, but Og still had hope. If he could get the gold back into his possession before the three wishes (which were granted from the gold) were used, he would remain a leprechaun. But if the three wishes were used, there would be no hope for Og. So he packs his bags and goes to America to seek out Finian and his gold. When he reaches his destiny, he finds that one of the wishes was already used by Finian's daughter Sharon (played by Judy

Finian's Rainbow

Saltzman) to turn Senator Billboard Rawkins (played by Gary Braumback) black. He himself uses the second wish to enable Susan Mahoney (played by Kim Luther) to talk. He also uses the third wish to save Sharon McMonerger and Woody Mahoney (played by George Spencer) from death by turning Sen. Billboard Rawkins white again. The three wishes were used and Og became mortal, but he did it mind for he was in love with Susan Mahoney. And as always, they lived happily ever after.

Guess how I got out of class yesterday? You'd never guess so I'll tell you. I donated Blood, that's right, yesterday the Blood Mobile was at Newark High School. There were one hundred sixty-nine persons who offered to donate their Blood. But only one hundred thirty-eight were productive donors, out of the hundred sixty-nine proposed donors ninety-five were first time donors. After we gave blood we were given Ham, salad or cheese sandwich and our choice of milk or coffee. For those of you who think teachers don't have guts, there were eighteen teachers who were brave enough to give.

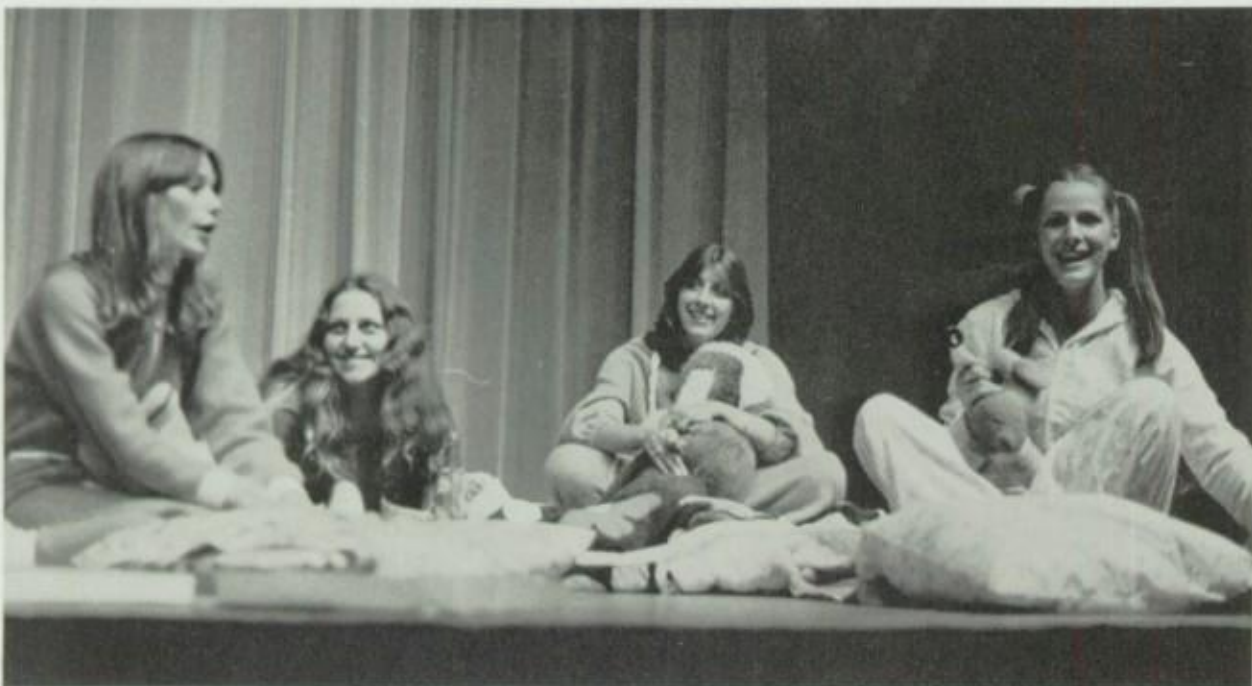

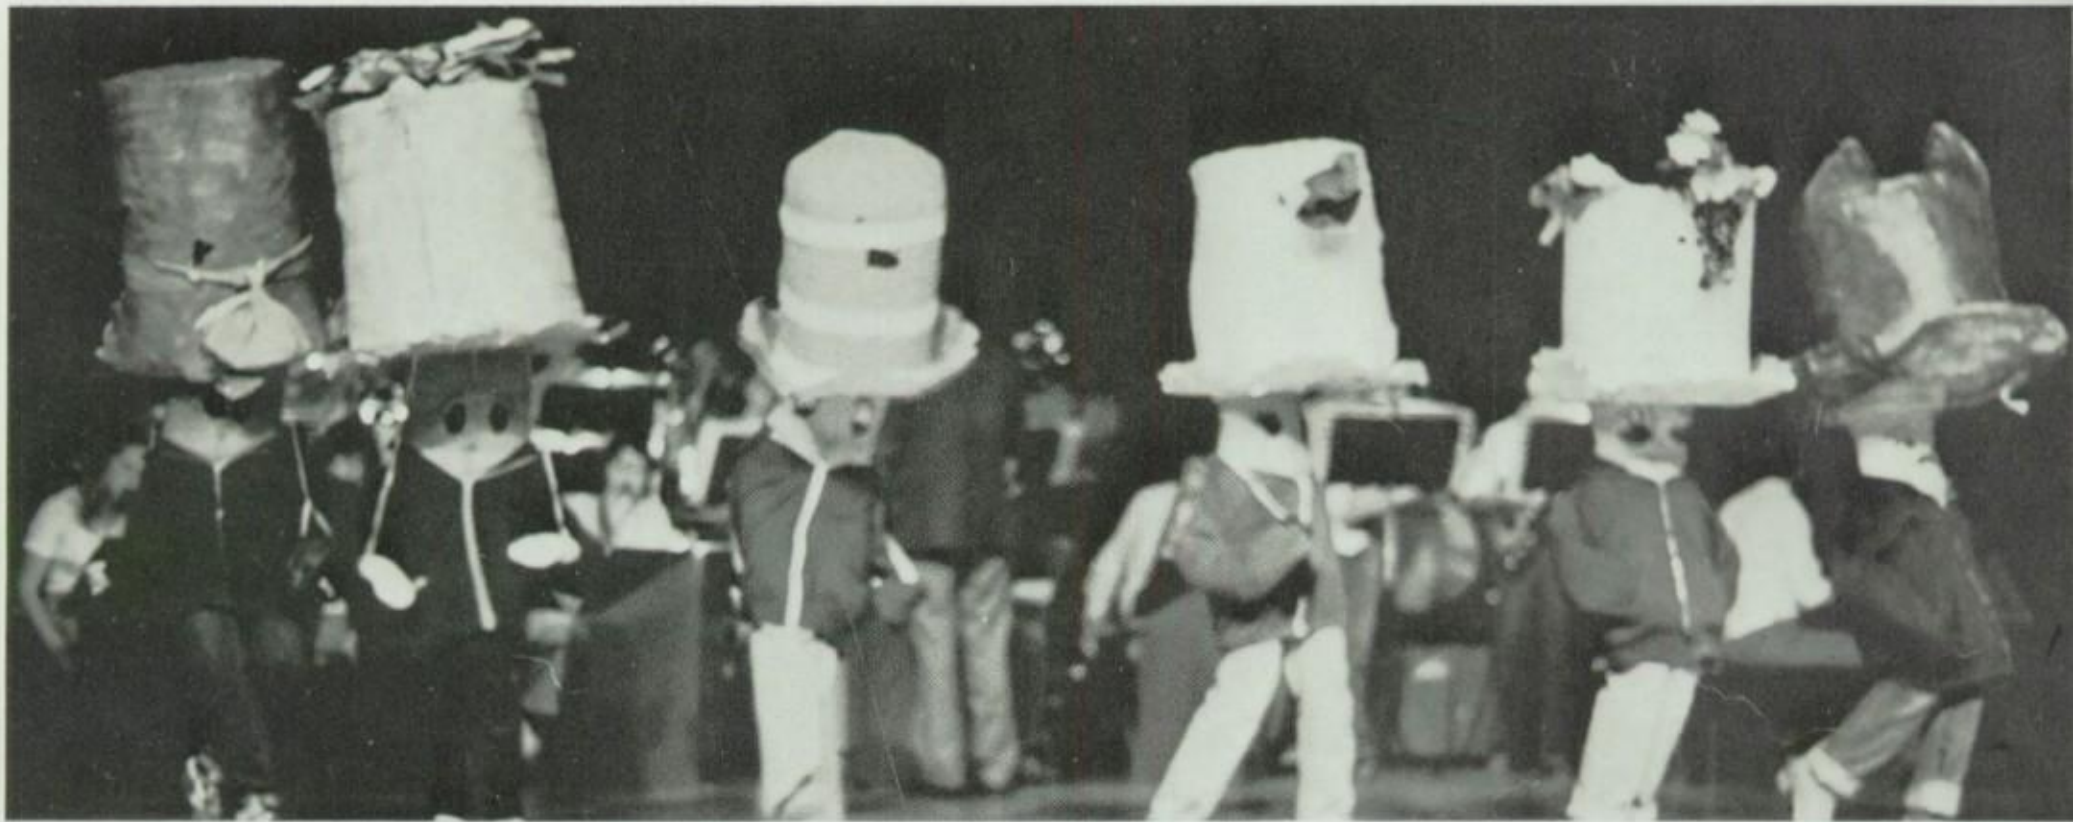

The day before Good Friday, was Newark High School's annual dress up day. The event of the day was putting on your Sunday best. After I was ready, some of the students went to the church services a United Methodist Church, presented by Newark High Schools Student Council.

(After the church services (though we weren't supposed to) many people went out to their favorite place for breakfast. Most of the students got to school by 9:00 and had to dream up some pretty good excuses for being tardy (but being teenagers, that was a simple task). Many people at school were dressed very stylish. Even people you wouldn't expect to dress-up, dressed up.

The Senior Assembly was held last Friday afternoon. It was one of the best assemblies we've had this year, but of course all senior assemblies are special. Mrs. Erickson, the advisor, really helped the seniors to put on a good show. The show was hosted by Gary Braumbeck, and Micki Sanderlin with other assorted hosts receiving "Annie" awards named after Mrs. Rose. The skits for the assembly were: "The Teachers" a spoof of N. H. S. teachers when they were students; "The Cone Heads", extraterrestrial students at N.H.S.; "The Passion Pit," a kissing pit in place of the smoking pit; "The Little People," showing little people in big hats; "The Slumber Party," some gossip at N.H.S. this year; and the "Farmers Daughter," an audience participation skit. Musical performances were supplied by Mark Rose singing "Dust in the Wind", with Tom Schmidt doing backup vocals, Judy Saltzman and Jeff Appleby singing "The Closer I Get To You," and Alex Hanson, Val Trassier and Joe Smith singing "Hatchee, Lizette, and Rex". The dance number for the show was provided by the talented senior wildcatettes doing a clown routine. Background music was provided by Mr. Neumann's stage band.

We had an assembly yesterday sponsored by the Air Force who came from Colorado Springs, Colorado. They sang a musical tribute from before slavery to the mid 70's. In their songs they told of the good times, depression, World War I, World War II, the trouble of the 40's, the Happy times of the 50's, the Vietnam War of the early 60's, and the early 70's. At the end of the assembly everybody in the program came off the stage shook everybody's hand.

In Germany, all pupils of one grade are divided into groups of 30-40. These classes get a classroom and their classroom teacher, who is responsible for his group. In 10th grade I had 8 required subjects with my class and 3 subjects I could choose. The subject teachers come mostly to our classroom. Every day, we have a different time-table. I got out of school between 12 and 2 o'clock and had lunch at home. There is school on Saturday! Twice a year, we get school reports, written by the classroom teacher. The grades range from 1 to 6 - 7 very bad. There are only some of the many differences. I think the American School System is very interesting and I like to go to Newark High School. ¹

As you expect my school in Bonn (W-Germany) is very different from N.H.S. School is 5 days a week from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. My schedule was every day different, but the weeks are the same. Students from 5th to 13th grade go to the same school, but after 9th grade you can quit if you wish to. Much more concentrated studies are asked in Germany and the students have 12 required subjects. In all subject we just have essay tests and we receive only two grade cards each year. The relationship between teachers and students is more personal. Teachers move from room to room and the students stay. But after all differences I loved N.H.S. ²

ABOUT AMERICAN LIFE BY COMING

The secondary school in Norway is quite different from American high school. There are more schools with fewer students. After 9th grade I chose a kind of school where mainly academic courses are taught.

Three times a year we have exams in all the written subjects. During those days we sit the whole day with tests and the test days last about a week. Everybody thinks these weeks are terrible. We have seven different classes, each last 40 minutes. In the middle of the day we have an hour off. We have open campus so we can do and go wherever we want during that hour.

In Norway we can graduate after the 9th year. But most of the students continue in different vocational schools. I went to a Trade and Office school and we had a lot less rules than the students have here. In between classes we have a 10 minute break, where we can go to the store, smoke or sit around. We don't need white passes, because we can write our own excuses. 4

Aarhus Cathedral school is the school I'm going to in Denmark. It's what you here would call a junior college. The school is very old, it was built in the 1650's. We don't have tests and quizzes, but we have to do a lot of reports e.t.c. for homework. The last week before summervacation we have oral and written examinations. 5

We are obligated to have nine subjects some of which we have five days a week; such as physics, chemistry, Trigonometry and Spanish, others we have two times a week. We have six years of elementary and six years of high school in the same building. Most of our schools are private catholic schools and very big. We have more responsibility in the sense that the pupils are treated more like adults, we don't have as many rules. 6

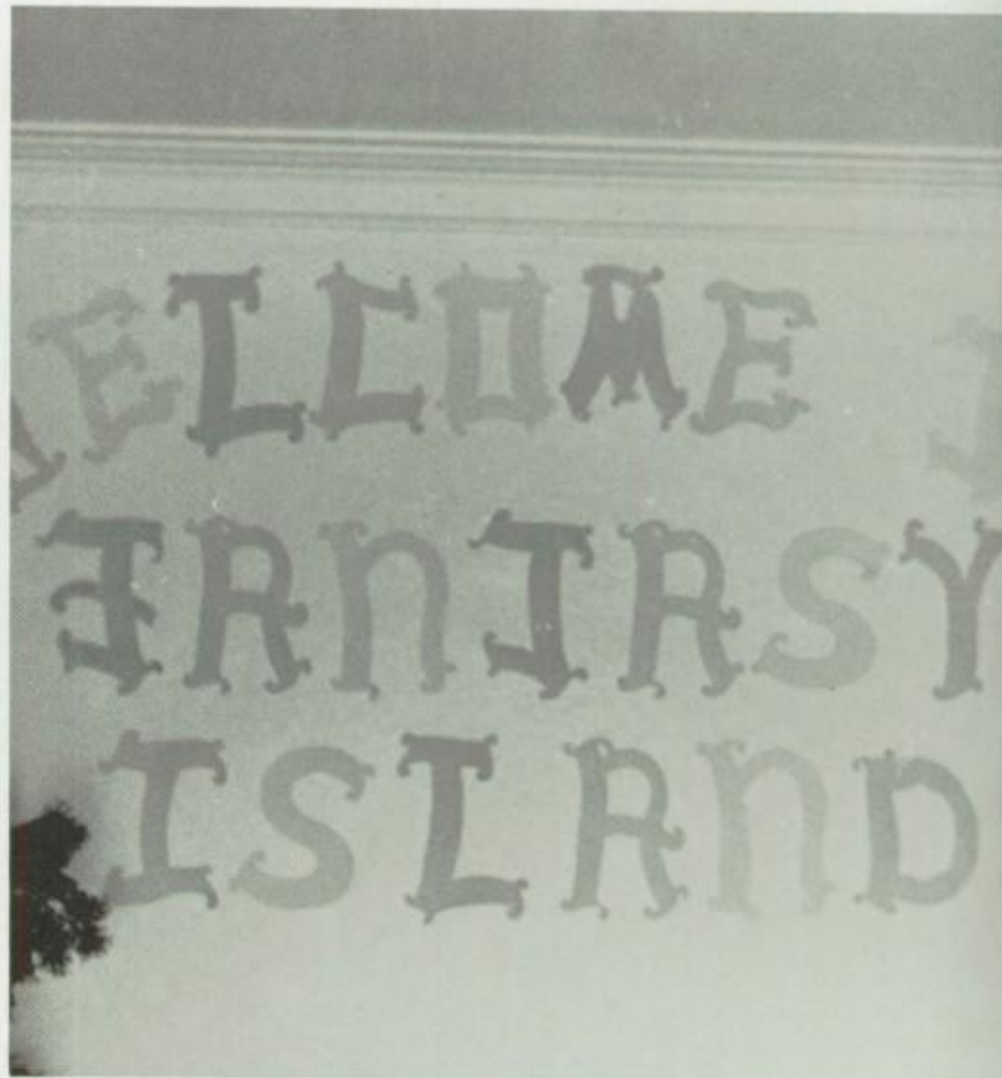

TO NEWARK HIGH SCHOOL.

There were three big differences between my school and N.H.S. First of all, the length of the school days are different. I had three semesters in a year. The first semester begins in April and is over in July, the second is from September to December, and the third one is from January to March. We have vacations for; one month in August and four weeks, winter vacation and spring vacation. We have to go to school on Saturday, so we have to go to school longer than here. The next difference is about tests. We take big exams, twice in one semester, but we don't take tests as often as here. The biggest difference is this, My school is a girl's mission school and I was in a dormitory. I was very happy I could study in a public school and live in an American house.

I think there are many differences between my school and N.H.S. The school I went to is a private boarding school. There are 500 students going to my school. There are 9 grades (5-13) and the students varied in ages unlike here. My school has an open campus. We have intermural sports at my school and they are no big thing like the football games here.⁸

Sports is a major event at N.H.S. but has little importance at my school in Sweden. We have an intramural-type basketball team, but ^{that} is about it. At N.H.S. only a minority participates in sports activity, whereas in my school, physical ed. is required for everybody throughout school. Another thing existing in Sweden is the field day. That is a day when the whole school goes skiing, plays soccer or any other athletic activity. The Swedish school system is based on - as far as sports is concerned - a program for non-competitive sports for everyone.⁹

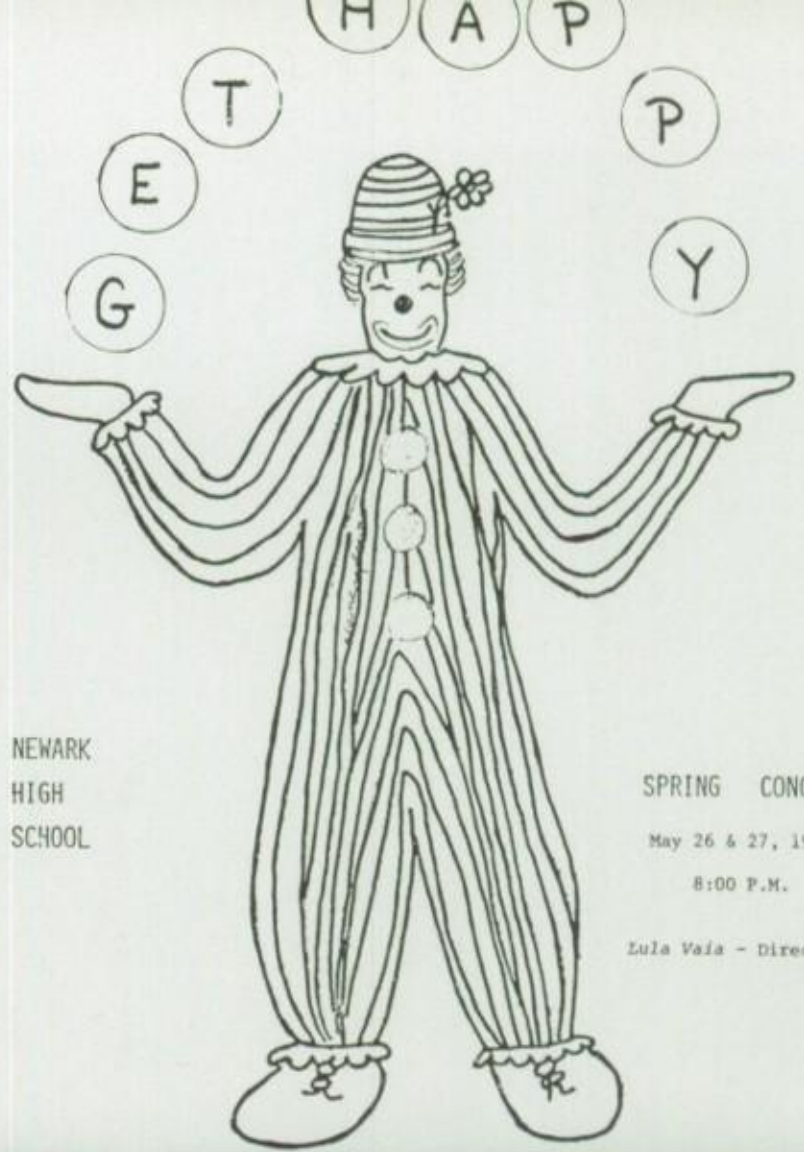

This year's Junior-Senior Prom was held at the Elks Club on May 13, 1978, from 9 P.M. to midnight. Everyone was dressed in formal attire and looked "classy." The music was by the "New Image" and refreshments were served. The 1978 prom queen was Jenny Wright and her court consisted of Val Taylor, Sue Shackett, Jamie Wright, and Cathy Campolo. The Junior-Senior After Prom parties were great this year. There were so many things to do - play games in the Casino, dance, eat, and there was an auction afterwards. Both After Proms started at midnight, but the Juniors' ended at 4:00 A.M. and the Seniors at 6:00 A.M. It was really fun!

GIRLS ACE THIRD PLACE

"As coach of the girl's tennis team, what did you think of your team?"
 "They were a great team and fun to coach. In the C.O.L. Tournament, we placed third. We will be losing seniors Jenny Wright, Jane Kelch, Terry Parker, Jane Leslie, Cathie Jones and Robin Grener. This will be a tough loss for the team. The juniors were Carolyn Zolo, Dianne Adams, and Robin Bagent. The sophomores were Cendy Rocco, Vickie Jones, Cassie Coffman, Sylvia Miller, Susan LeFevre, and Beth Smith. Lots of rebuilding has to be accomplished before next fall," stated Coach Janet Smith.
 "How did you go about preparing for the fall season?"
 "Last summer we had a team tournament and then two weeks before school started two hour a day practices."
 "Anything you would like to add, Coach Smith?"
 "Despite a not so terrific record of eight wins and seven losses, the team had an enjoyable season, long bus rides, and plenty of food."

CROSS COUNTRY SPECIALIZES IN RUNNING

Running long distances may sound difficult to most people, but to the cross country team it was a specialty. The team under coach Phil Torrens had a record of four wins and three losses and placed third in the C.O.L. this year. Senior lettermen were: Bob McGill, Tom Barnaba, Anders Kingstedt, and Alan Hanson. Juniors included Rob Randolph and Tony Grubb. Other participants were Jeff Good, Chris Hogue, Jim Pitt, Mark Rector, Joe Biros, Marty Griggs, and Kevin Watkins. Coach Phil Torrens felt it was the best group of young men he has ever worked with both on and off the field of competition.

NHS GOLFERS SHOW IMPROVEMENT

It was on the par three sixth hole at Coshocton Country Club. Jack Larry was set to tee off using a seven iron. He hits the ball. It was a 166 yard drive. It bounced on the green, rolled and dropped in the cup for a hole in one. It was a great moment for Jack and his N.H.S. golf teammates.

The N.H.S. golfers ended the season with a record nine wins and eleven losses under second year coach Jerry Hatcher and assistant coach Fred Lentz. The team took third in the C.O.L., two strokes behind Grove City.

Jack Larry and Brad Clark were the only senior lettermen while junior lettermen were Mark Scarrett and Chris Roberts. Sophomore lettermen included Steve Underwood and Don Dawson; Greg Garrett was the other sophomore team member.

Coach Hatcher said that, "This year's team didn't play up to its potential." Next year he expects the team to do even better.

NEW COACH HEADS 'CATS

The Wildcat football team was coached by Bill Biggers and his assistant coaches Joe Neff, John Brown and Tom Wortman. The team's record ended at four wins, five losses and one tie, a good season for a team headed by a new coach. Coach Biggers said his players this year had great ability and they knew how to use it. The competition was tougher than his past years. Newark's linebacker Randy Priest was chosen for the first team C.O.L. and the first team district. He also received honorable mention in all state balloting. The Wildcats have twelve lettermen returning next year. The second year always proves better for a new coach.

WILDKITTENS END SEASON 4-3

The reserve football team got off to a slow start this year. As the season progressed, the players started to play together and they were a greatly improved team with a 4-3 season. The reserves were coached by Ned Reeb and assistant coaches Dan Walters and Jeff Grindrod. With lots of luck and hard work the team had potential. This year was the largest class to play together in recent years, and this will help chances for success in the future.

VOLLEYBALLERS MAKE THE DISTRICTS

This year's volleyball team, under the direction of coach Connie Pumpelly, was the best Newark High has ever had. Although they didn't get off to a great start, they really showed just what they could do. With a seasonal record of 7-6 they went on to win every C.O.L. game and became Newark High's first champions in C.O.L. volleyball. The team went further to capture the title of number one in the sectional out of a field of eight, which put them in the districts. Although they lost the district game, this was still the best year ever for the volleyballers. The team will be losing their seniors — Cathy Edly, Diane Hurdiss, Lisa Jones, Cheryl Lehman, and Sue Sitler, but with the repeating juniors and reserve team (with a record of 11-2) next year's team will be just as good. Marjeanne Walters, coach of the reserve team, felt the girls did a fine job and will prove to be a great asset to next year's varsity squad. Managers for volleyball included Kim McCloud, Linda Coventry, and Debbie Trager.

GIRLS HAVE STRONG SEASON

The girl's varsity basketball team had a winning season this year with a record of 8-4. Many awards and certificates were given as a result of the good season. Mrs. Walters will be losing seniors Teresa Carey, Cathy Edly, Lisa Jones, Cheryl Lehman, and Louise Pound, but with the juniors Kathy Brush, Tina Cook, Linda Coventry, Becky Hickman, Sandy Kirkendall, and sophomores Marcy Utrevis, along with Miss Pumpelly's reserves, next year's team will probably be great. The reserve team consisted of Eileen Clark, Teri Good, Karen Matthews, Mindy McFadden, Michelle Moore, Nancy Pound, Diane Sowards, Debbie Trager, and Pat Wilson. The reserves had a perfect season with a record of 9-0.

'CATS HAVE SOGGY SEASON

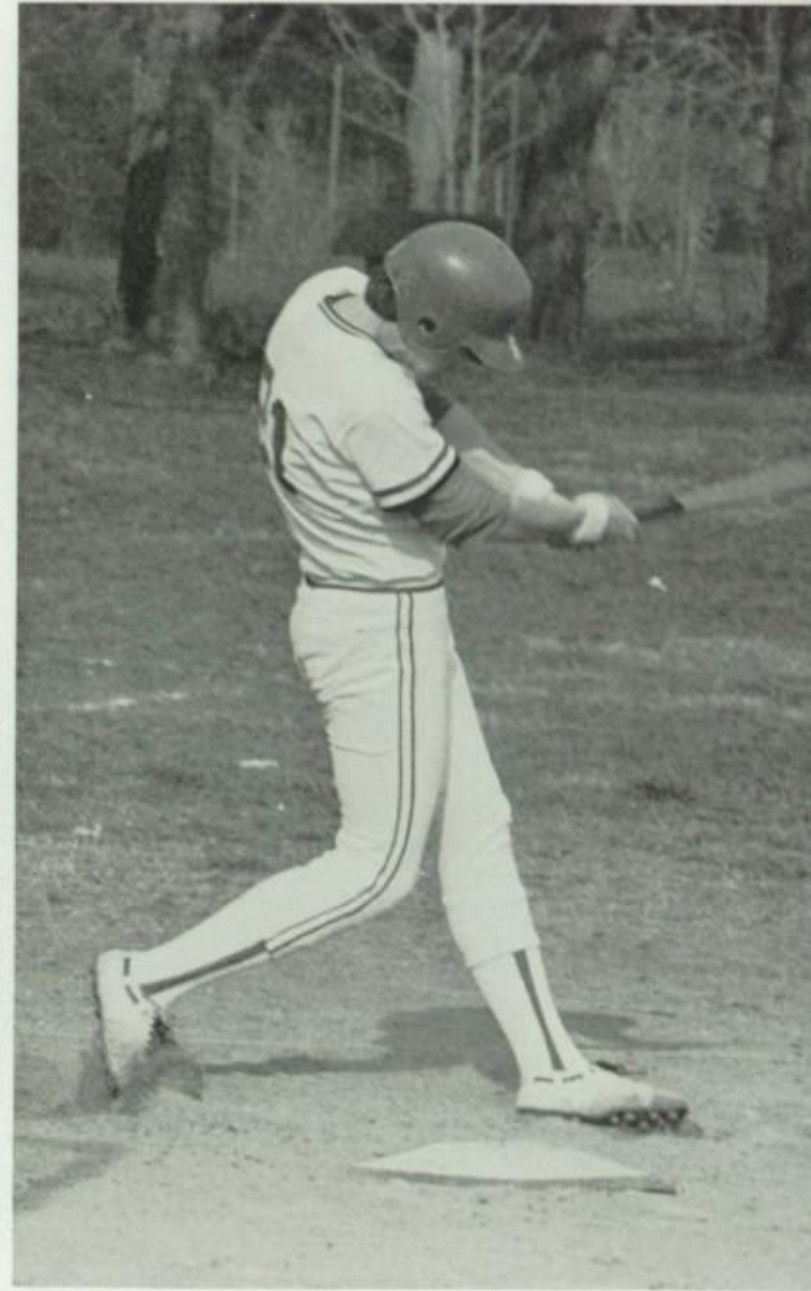

The Wildcats had a very rainy season this year with thirty-two games being rained out. But, out of the twenty-two games they did play, the Wildcats came out with a record of twelve wins, nine losses, and one tie. Joe Neff said that this was one of the best teams he's ever coached. However, he admits that the cancelled games did hurt them. Several outstanding players were named from the '77-'78 team. They were: Leading Fielder — Don Good; Leading Hitter — Jim Forgrave; Leading Pitcher — Don Atwell; Most Valuable Player — Brian Walsh; and the "Hustle" award was given to Mark Meixner. Three members of the club were selected to play in the Coach's AAA All-Star Game in Columbus, Ohio. They were: Lee Cooperrider, Brian Walsh, and Jim Forgrave.

The NHS girls softball team, in their first season ever, tied for third in the state. Head coach Sheila Hiles and assistant coach Ruth Sunkle put together the winning combination. With only four seniors, two juniors, and the rest sophomores, the girls outclassed their opponents from the season opener. Leading pitchers were seniors Cheryl Lehman, Cathy Edly, and Louise Pound. Next year looks even brighter with two-thirds of the team returning.

IFS conducted a 32 day field ecology trip to the Northwest United States. This course emphasized field ecology for which the students received one unit of high school credit. Newark High School students have traveled, camped, and studied in almost every national park in the United States and Canada. The teachers who plan and conduct these extended field trips feel that students learn to appreciate nature and the wilderness by becoming an intricate part of it. Other trips offered are to Andros Island in the Bahamas for a ten day non-credit introduction to skin and scuba diving and marine biology. A second trip was to Carter Caves in Kentucky to go spelunking. Further information Mr. Roberts, Mr. MacGregor, or Mr. Holekamp.

BAND CAMP

Under the direction of Mr. Robert Neumann, the Newark High School Marching Band had a most successful season.

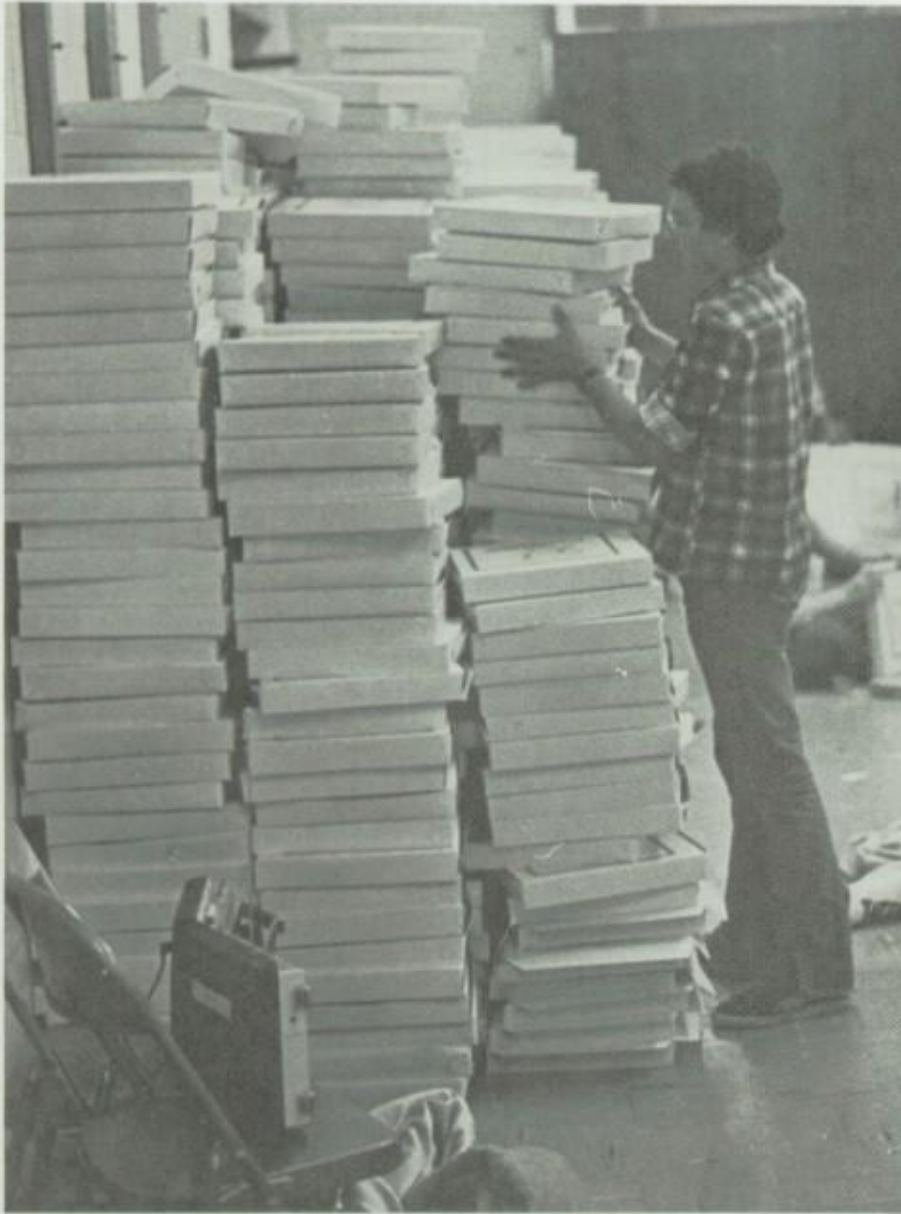

The band performed at all football games and participated in various parades including the United Way and Gimbel's Thanksgiving Day Parade.

The band practiced during the summer months and almost every school day for upcoming events.

They have also been marching in competition in Ohio and West Virginia. In New Philadelphia, they placed first in parade competition. In Wheeling, W. Virginia, they placed second in field competition. Also, in Dayton, they placed seventh in field competition.

To earn their way towards their Philadelphia-Washington trip, the band sold over seven thousand dollars worth of pizzas and candy bars. Both sales turned out to be very rewarding.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Donna Woltjen, the Newark High Wildcatettes had a very intriguing year.

The Wildcatettes were very busy during the 1977-78 school year. They practiced almost everyday during school getting prepared for half-time shows during football and basketball seasons. The Wildcatettes also performed in parades, drill team competitions, and competitions in which they participated with the band.

The Wildcatettes had a pizza sale along with the band to earn their way to Philadelphia where they participated in the Gimbel's Thanksgiving Day parade. They also had a candy sale in January and another pizza sale in the spring to buy new uniforms and equipment. To become a Wildcatette, a girl must go to conditioning and then be selected through tryouts. All of this takes place in the spring. After the tryouts are over, thirty-two lucky girls will be known as the Newark High School Wildcatettes for the upcoming school year.

Officers were: Teri Shackelton (Captain); Julie Mills (Senior Lieutenant); Mary Moore and Kelle Rodeniser (Junior Lieutenants).

IN THE KNOW

In the Know is an organization with seventeen members, four of who are chosen as regulars. There are no requirements for In the Know, and everybody is welcome to try out. In the Know demands hard work, and the team meets two or three times a week in preparation for competitions. Mr. Johnston, the advisor, makes sure the club is more enjoyable, with an awards banquet in the spring, and competitions and scrimmages that are exciting as well as fun. The long practices paid off in the first meet with Galion when Newark won 240 to 160, enabling them to compete against Baxley on March 6. Unfortunately, Bexley defeated the Wildcats.

YOUR HOUSE

Dusty, deserted hallways and too many locked doors Hide away the meanings
it was place here for.
I can see by the wall where our couch used to be dreams come a dime a dozen realities are always free.
Now it is gone
never to return
The messages will never be found
The lessons will never be learned,
I used to wait
I will wait still
With the memories of that house
You lived in, on top of the hill.

— Gary Braunbeck

INDECISION

Deciding what to write about
Is not an easy task.
I ponder and I ponder,
Getting nowhere much too fast.
What I need is inspiration,
But I haven't got a thought.
My mind goes 'round in circles
And my brain is in a knot.
I look intently at each object
That I pass throughout the day.
"Would that make a good subject
For a poem or for a play?"
I wonder and I wonder
As the minutes tick on by.
Won't someone please assist me?
This poem's due date is nigh!
Should I write of love eternal
Or a picture on the wall . . .
Or maybe of the seasons,
Winter, spring and summer, fall
I ask not for a great work of art
Nor one of great import,
I only ask for one that's nice
Or something of that sort.
Wait! Here's a thought that's sort of new.
Listen and see if this might do . . .
What if I decide to take the route of deciding what to write about?

— Julie Seigel

In The Still Of The Night

Love came softly, so still in the night,
When anyone else was nowhere in sight,
It touched me, as usual, in a casual way,
But found once it came, it had nowhere to stay.

It came suddenly and swiftly, as if nowhere to hide,
But as all other times, went out with the tide.
By the time I had realized just what I had got,
It was too far along, and too late to stop.

If only you could love me, as I still love you,
We could work it out together, just me and you.
Rummaging through old memories, sad but true,
And loving what once was, but now isn't, too.

Anyone else could have left as he came,
But my feeling for you will be forever the same.
So forgive me my love, if I seem a bit confused,
'Cause all I need to mend that spot is to be alone with you.

So go for now, but return without fright,
As you came to me once, so still in the night.

— Kim Smith

LOVE SONG

How lonely
a static-filled forgotten love song sounds at 4:00 A.M.

Coming from the dusty radio of the apartment upstairs reaching through the peeling gray walls into my hot bed stubbornly ignoring the flickering neon sign across the street
all this trouble
just to tell the worn-out love stories which everyone has heard and no one cares about.

— Joyce Luzio

Discovering Life

A dew drop resting
On a rose . . . Afraid . . . to plunge
Into the outside world

In the wintertime
Outdoor life seems to stand still Until warmth returns

In the morning light
Unfolds the flowers arms
Reaching for the sky

In the early dawn
A rooster crows with earnest
To start our morning

A leaf sits alone
On a Quivering willow Afraid to fall . . . Down

— Teri Shackelton

REVISED VERSION OF HAMLET'S FAMOUS SPEECH

To skip or not to skip: that is the question.
Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer
The yells and detentions of outrageous deans,
Or to take arms against the bore of study hall,
And by opposing overthrow it? To talk, to sleep;
No more; and by a sleep to say we end
The confrontation and the thousand natural detentions
That talking is heir to, 'tis a consummation
Devoutly to be avoided. To talk, to sleep;
To sleep: perchance to dream: ay, there's the embarrassment;
For in that sleep of boredom what dreams may come
That makes us hollar obscenities
Must give us relief: there's the respect
That makes catastrophes of so long study halls;
For who bears the silence and length of forty-five minutes,
The neighbor's snore, the nervous man's pencil-tapping
The pangs of despised coughing, the inevitable
sniffles
The teacher's interruption, and the dog walking around Under your feet mistaking your shoe for something to eat,
When he himself might his quietus make
With a bare pencil lead?

— Jenny Johnson

tear, no mere raindrop or wet spot. It's frustration and sadness, sheer madness, all melted together and boiled down to a concentrated form

— Valerie Taylor, Editor

A small bird
Hesitates . . .
For a moment only,
to catch the fleeting image of his being Mirrored upon the pond,
And then
Gathering confidence,
Silently spreads his tiny wings
To soar into the sky.

MATHEMATICS

Services
Special

offered NHS students a chance to appreciate the discipline of mathematics, an understanding of the logical structure of mathematics, a facility with computational skills and problem solving and a capacity to apply mathematics to human activities and natural phenomena within our physical universe. Scholarship was the key word and the department felt that increased enrollment and new textbooks aided the more than 1000 students who took mathematics courses.

Living was what students were prepared for in

HOME

ECONOMICS

Part of the job was to teach students to become responsible, independent, and employable individuals who can cope with life. New this year was a parenting course. More than 600 students are involved in courses in the home economics department.

Participation, study and performance created an awareness of music For almost one-fourth of N.H.S.'s students, continue excellence in all activities was the goal of the music department. Two units of the high school band during concert season, new choral and instrumental literature, new choral risers, and a new four valve tuba added to this awareness. Each year new participants have added to the music department and this past year was no exception.

Library

Newark High School's Library was the only place on campus that had something new every day. With the constant flow of books, records, and slides, the N.H.S. library always presented a new picture for students as well as teachers. Micro-fiche was added to aid students, new research skills were taught to the Debate team and usage by 300-350 students daily meant the library got involved. Involvement was the key to the library's operations.

Social Studies

was people. This department wanted to prepare students for participation in society. With over three-fourths of all NHS students taking social studies courses, the department had an excellent staff, fine learning center materials, and interested students. Money would help improve the department according to its chairman. When students have success, we have success; when students do not have success, we do not have success helped to show the department's concern for people.

English

Improvement in reading was a goal that N.H.S.'s department set their sights on this year. With the nation's reading level on the downfall, English teachers took it into their own hands to improve the school's overall reading ability. Sustained Silent Reading was introduced (fifteen minutes every Thursday) plus, reading was emphasized more in the classroom than in past years. Writing was not left out either. WRITING THE RESEARCH PAPER was sold to students for one dollar. This booklet was used to teach students how to write better research papers and could be used all the way through college. Communication came quite easily this year. One word that best describes Newark High School's English department, and with no pun intended, is class.

ART

Over one-fourth of Newark High School's student body was involved in some kind of These include those who are talented, those who are not but are interested in art, and those who are just in it for the easy credit. Having talent is but a small part of art. Creative thinking, appreciation, and being able to express oneself are very important, also. Having students competing and winning on higher art levels were the main highlights of the art department's year. And with the new centrifuge for casting metals and the new floor loom, the students were educated in newer aspects of art. Innovative creativity best described Newark High School's art department.

Occupational Work Experience

aided students in developing good work attitudes so they could become better employees. Approximately 75 students were involved in the OWE program at NHS, and it proved to be an excellent year in the employment of students with 90-100% success. Students with needs keyed the OWE area as students learned direction for living in today's world.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

classes were designed for students who want to learn to use their hands to make a living. Emphasized this year, like all years past, were a good attitude toward working safely with the hands, making decisions, working with other people and taking construction criticism. A new Bridgeport vertical milling machine in metals and more girls in I.A. courses added to its department's teaching of technology. Three students placed first, second and third in the general knowledge statewide contest and first place in the state fair for booth exhibit last summer. Technology is what it's all about in Industrial Arts.

Saleable skills in the vocational block and knowledge and skills that can be used either on the job or in personal lives in vocational classes are the expectations desired in

BUSINESS EDUCATION

With approximately one-third of NHS's students enrolled, this department wanted quality to be its key word. Students are well-trained for office jobs. Fourteen new typewriters aided the department.

Well-qualified teachers and a broad range of course offerings to meet the needs of both vocational and non-vocational students as well as well-qualified teachers are the greatest successes in the business department.

Employability was the key word to teachers in the WORK-STUDY PROGRAM.

Special Education

The new Woodside Center was designed for new programs for the approximately 80-100 students in this department. Using Woodside meant that valuable pre-vocational evaluation work-adjustment programming could be carried out. Utilizing new State and Federal guidelines has brought it about the implementation of IEP'S (Individual Educational Plans) for all students. These programs have brought about full-employment within the work-study program.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

emphasized fitness this past year. Sportsmanship, better health habits, lifetime sports, and physical fitness were expectations for the more than 600 sophomores who took health and the more than 850 students who took physical education. A swimming pool and an all-weather track would aid an otherwise fine program, good equipment and facilities, and an improved program.

TRIBUTE TO EMORY GEORGE ROBERTS

February 23, 1927 — November 2, 1977

Mr. Roberts was born on February 23, 1927, in Welch, West Virginia. He was educated in that area and graduated from Welch High School. In 1944, he entered Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He graduated from that institution in 1950.

He received his Masters Degree from West Virginia University in 1954 and his Specialist Certificate in Administration from Ohio State University in 1965.

Mr. Roberts began teaching in Newark in 1955 at Lincoln Junior High as a teacher of mathematics. In 1960, he served as Vice Principal at Lincoln. In 1961, he transferred to Newark High where he taught math and served as a building coordinator. In 1968, he was named Assistant Principal at Newark High and has served in that capacity since that time.

He served Newark High, the profession of education, and his community well. Along other things, he was active in our athletic program and served as an advisor for the Newark High school student council for many years.

Most of us will remember him as the person who helped us begin each day on a positive and sometimes humorous note with a thought for the day.

Those who knew him well will remember him as a fair man, an honest man, and a devout man. One of his favorite passages from the Bible is found in II Timothy 4: 6-8.

“The time for my departure has come. I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race. I have kept the faith.”

We can add nothing to Mr. Roberts stature with our words. We might borrow a few words from Shakespeare to describe him:

“His life was gentle, and the elements so mix'd in him that Nature might stand up and say to all the world, ‘This was a man’”.

The is the last page. Half of you will get this far. Half of you will never read this. I will be the first to admit that I am not the most experienced yearbook editor ever to put a yearbook together. As a matter of fact, I had had no previous involvement outside of typing the 1977 yearbook. But I was force fed as much knowledge of the art as possible and was sent on my merry way. The result you are holding in your hands.

The year went by miraculously without many problems for this rookie. We were always well ahead of our deadlines, until the end, and the efficiency was fairly good. Some things could have been better — how the staff was organized, cooperation given by other teachers and clubs, and the sale of the yearbook. The money you pay for the book, along with advertising revenues, is what pays for the producing of the yearbook. The more money that comes in, the better the book. For with more money, comes more color, more special effects, and an over all better book.

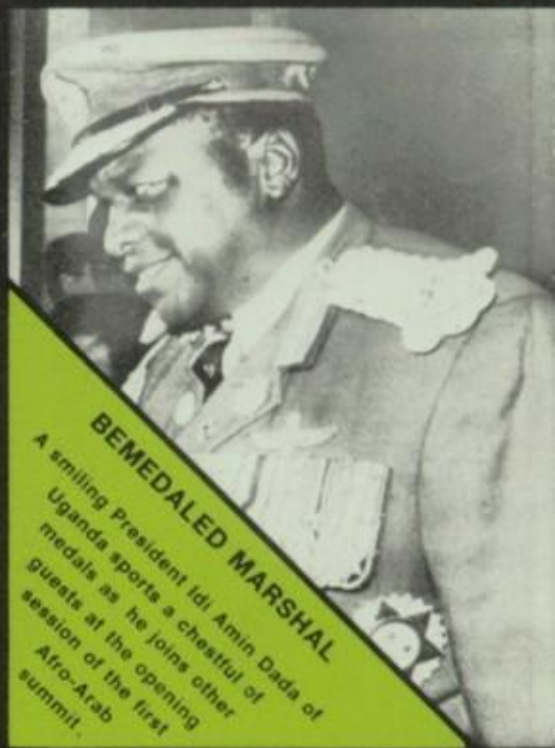

Now to the thank yous. I would like to thank the photographers — Barry Burtenshaw, Curt Kitchens, Tim Newstrand and Doug Vermillion. Without them, you would not be looking at this. I would like to thank seniors Garry Revercomb, Sylvia Scarlett, and Kevin Brest for putting in much needed time after they had already left NHS. I want to give credit to the advertising section because they did a spectacular job. To Debbie Steele who designed one of the most magnificent covers I have ever seen. To Josten's American Yearbook Company who sent me to Otterbein College to learn the yearbook business and for manufacturing the yearbook. And last I would like to thank Jim Wenner whose iron fist and wit helped me to produce this book.

To close, all I would like to say is that I wish Kim Ferguson (1979 editor) and Joan Sheppard (assistant editor) all the luck in the world, for they will surely need it. And this experience will last forever in the musty file cabinets of my mind.
